Student Demographic Disparities

- GPA
 - Older SC students were significantly likely to obtain lower grades than younger students (correlation between age and GPA – $r = -.476$, $p = .019$).
 - No differences in GPA across gender or race
- Final Internship Site Supervisor Evaluation
 - No relationship between age, race or gender and final site supervisor evaluations
- CECE Comprehensive Exam Scores
 - No relationship between age, race or gender and CECE subtest scores

Student Demographic Disparities

- GPA & Age
 - Exit interviews will be attempted with students that graduated from the SC program in 2021-2022 who are among those in the higher age ranges, as well as with students currently in the program who are in higher age ranges. This will be focused on identifying gaps and unique needs of older students in the program that are within the program's capacity to address and improve.

Changes Made in 2021-2022

- Moved Multicultural Class to Spring Semester
- Moved Research Class to Summer
- Increased Frequency of Disposition Evaluations
- Split research and career classes into SC and CMHC
- Added Canvas Comprehensive Exam Review Site Information

Key Program Improvement Actions

- Identify students with writing skill weaknesses within the first half of the first semester in the program and make referral to the Writing Center.
- Revamping CECE study Canvas site to make more organized and accessible
- Intensive mentoring and pedagogical supports for the new Multicultural Counseling instructor the program will bring on board this year.
- Move Multicultural Counseling to spring to allow for a longer time period for course learning processes to occur and, hopefully, foster more knowledge retention.

Key Program Improvement Actions

- Review Human Development course content and cross-reference with CECE content to ensure appropriate preparation for the comprehensive exam in this domain.
- In Theories of Counseling the instructor will provide additional review to promote retention, particularly for students who struggle on the mid-term examination.
- Continue to work closely with Site Supervisors to ensure consistent ratings of items.

Upcoming Changes: Theories/Helping Relationships

- Increase guest speaker demonstrations of counseling using an applied theory
- Require students to incorporate theory into 3rd and 4th simulated counseling sessions
- Add video rooms & Simulation Lab to practice counseling skills
- Increase use of small groups to discuss development of personal theory & personal theory paper
- Add didactic theory to practice into practicum class
 - Case studies conceptualized using a theory
 - Case studies required to reflect on and describe techniques

Upcoming Changes: Research

- Add mini video lectures with discussion
- Change to a blended course
- Add 4-5 face to face sessions
- Substitute a 1-2 page research proposal outline
 - Move research proposal completion to Practicum (fall)

Increase Support of Students

- Provide in multiple areas and reinforce upfront sharing of expectations and costs throughout the program (Livetext, Theravue, Praxis, Liability Insurance, NCC application)
- Meet with older students to identify any needed additionally supports
- Facilitate rapport building
 - Elicit adjunct feedback of student progress at midterm & $\frac{3}{4}$ term
 - Utilize small groups for peer support
 - Plan student retreats and informal gatherings

Disposition Evaluations

- Add anchoring examples to the Counseling Program Student Disposition Evaluation
- Student Self-Evaluations of Dispositions
 - Increase time spent instructing students on dispositions and utilizing the Counseling Program Student Disposition Evaluation
- Site Supervisor Evaluations of Student Dispositions
 - Include instruction on completing the Counseling Program Student Disposition Evaluation during site supervisor training

Site Supervisor Training

- Instruction for completing student disposition evaluations
 - Anchoring examples
- Instruction for completing practicum & internship evaluations
 - Anchoring examples

Advisory Board Input and Ideas

- Continue to focus efforts on recruitment of more diverse students
- Support of inclusion of a required crisis course and the advanced issues course that further prepares students for practice.

Counseling Professional Dispositions - Students will demonstrate professionalism, ethical reasoning and professional dispositions. Outcome Status: Current Outcome Year: 16-17, 17-18, 18-19, 19-20, 20-21 Start Date: End Date:	Meetings - Meetings Core Counseling faculty will meet to review dispositions on all active students. Criterion: 100% of students will receive a satisfactory review on all dispositions listed on the dispositions evaluation from the majority of the core Counseling faculty members. The dispositions measure uses the following scale: 1 = Unsatisfactory, 2 = Needs Improvement, 3 = Proficient. A satisfactory review occurs when students receive an average of 2.5 or higher from the faculty reviewers. Schedule: Biannual meetings.	Result Trend: Monitoring Result Type: Criterion Met The Core Counseling Faculty meet two review student dispositions at least twice a year. The Core Faculty met in December, May, August, and September to review student dispositions. All students’ average scores were above the criterion of 2.5. Core faculty discussed any areas of at these meetings. A Core Faculty meeting was held in September to review each student’s dispositions. First year students were discussed and no dispositional concerns arose. However, students only began the program 4 weeks ago. These students will be evaluated again after the completion of fall semester. Students who had begun their 4th semester or who were in practicum/internship were thoroughly reviewed by the faculty. No concerns were noted. (09/14/2022) Notes:

(Active) Criterion: Criterion: 100% of students will obtain an average rating across the internship evaluation items pertaining to this outcome of 2.5 or higher on a 5-point liker-type scale, with 1 = Unsatisfactory, 2 = Below Average, 3 = Average, 4 = Above Average, and 5 = Exceeds Expectations. The items from the following sections will be used in determining whether the criterion has been met: Professional Behaviors and Personal Characteristics Schedule: Schedule: Once per year as the cohort completes the final internship hours. Date Added: 8/26/18	evaluations filled out by their site supervisors on items pertaining to Professional Behaviors and Personal Characteristics was greater than 2.5. Student intern averages ranged from 4.8– 5.0. The average for the group of interns for Fall 2021 and Spring 2022 was 4.98. The lowest score receive on any Professional Behavior/Personal Characteristic was a 4 which means the supervisor rated the intern as exceed expectations on all items in the categories of Professional Behaviors and Personal Characteristic. (09/14/2022) Notes:	Behaviors and Personal Characteristics, beginning in Fall 2022 internship supervisors will fill out the Counseling Program Student Disposition Evaluation in addition to the Final Internship Evaluation. The rationale for adding this evaluation as a part of the internship evaluation process is that the Counseling Program Student Disposition Evaluation is a fairly comprehensive evaluation of counselor dispositions and the evaluation will also completed by the intern and the faculty supervisor which will provide a triangulation of data in regard to counselor dispositions. The average for the assignment was 93.9%. The range was 43-109. One student (Caucasian) earned an F (43) and 2 students earned Bs (89). This assignment requires that students identify a need, develop an idea for a group, review the literature, establish criteria for group membership, set group goals, and plan a minimum of 8 group sessions. (09/14/2022) Notes:	Use of Results: In review of this student's performance, it is evident that this grade was the result of weakness in writing skills. To address this discrepancy in skills, counselor education program faculty will strategically identify students during the first two semester in need of targeted intervention though the use of the writing center on campus before turning in written assignments. Start Date: End Date:	Standardized Test, i.e., CLA - Comprehensive Exam - Assessment & Testing Domain Criterion: Score within 1 standard deviation of the mean on the Career Development domain for that testing year Schedule: Fall Semester	Result Trend: Monitoring Result Type: Criterion Met SC students who took the Counselor Education Comprehensive Exam, a standardized exam used by multiple counseling graduate programs across the country. In total 6 students took the CECE during the 2021-2022 academic year. On the individual appraisal domain SC students obtained an average score of 9.33. This was above the overall USA counseling program mean of 8.45, and above the national mean of 8.17. Scores below 5.59 were below 1 standard deviation unit from the national mean. Thus, the SC average score is well within the average range. No students earned an individual appraisal domain score below the -1SD range. 6/6 students obtained scores within the -1SD range. (09/14/2022) Notes:	Use of Results: The Research course was moved from Spring Semester to Summer Semester in 2022. Given that summer semester is only 8 weeks long, input from students and Core Counseling Faculty indicate that moving the research proposal to the Fall during practicum may improve student learning of concepts and provide adequate time to complete a thorough research proposal after learning the concepts in research class. Core faculty will meet in mid-September with students and ask for more in-depth feedback. Faculty are considering changing the summer assignment to a Research Proposal Outline that prepares students to complete a research proposal in the fall semester as they are working on their Advocacy Project.

The students rate themselves using the Counseling Program Student Disposition Evaluation and counseling faculty teaching the Process & Skills class also complete the Counseling Program Student Disposition Evaluation. Counseling faculty then compare student self-ratings with faculty ratings. The counseling faculty teaching the course meets with each student and discusses the Counseling Program Student Disposition Evaluation self-rating as well as the faculty evaluation of the student's dispositions. The CORE faculty meet at least biannually to discuss dispositions and to note if any students struggle with self-evaluation of dispositions. All SC students self-evaluation of their dispositions were rated as proficient or higher by the counseling faculty teaching the Process & Skills course and all core faculty were in agreement of a proficient or higher rating of self-evaluation skills for all SC students (Core Faculty met in May 2022) and discussed the Counseling Program Student Disposition Evaluation for all students. The disposition measure uses the following scale: 1 = Limited Awareness; 2 =Novice, 3 = intermediate (proficient); 4 = Advanced; and 5 = Expert. A satisfactory review occurs when students receive an average of 2.5 or higher across all items. A 2.5 mean across items is deemed proficient overall. However, any individual disposition rated below 3 is discussed with the student and students are encouraged to develop goals to facilitate growth in the disposition. The GPA average was 3.93, with a range of 3.52 - 4 and a SD of .13. There was a significant relationship between student age and GPA ($r = -.476$, $p = .019$). A two-way ANOVA was run with self-reported gender and self-reported race as independent variables and GPA as the dependent variable. The overall model was not significant ($F = .268$, $p = .7678$, Adjusted R Squared = $-.068$). There was no relationship between student gender and GPA or student race and GPA. (09/15/2022) Notes:	Use of Results: The program coordinator and primary SC instructor will conduct an exit interview with students in the higher age range of the recently graduated and current SC students to gauge what factors are linked to academic performance and the degree to which these factors are under the program's ability to mitigate or improve. (09/19/2022) Notes: Result Trend: Monitoring Result Type: Criterion Met This analysis is conducted for the counseling programs as a whole. 18 student took comprehensive exams during the 2021-2022 academic year. A MANOVA was conducted with the various subtest scores of the CECE as the dependent variable and sex and race as the independent variables. The overall model was statistically significant (F = 134, df = 8, 18, p = .000. There was no significant relationship between student gender and CECE test scores overall and no overall relationship between race and CECE test scores overall. Despite this lack of an overall effect, there was a simple effect between race and the Social Cultural domain test (F = 6,7, p = .021). There was also a statistically significant interaction between student gender and race. An examination of descriptive statistics revealed that this effect consisted of non-white women scoring higher on the social cultural subtest than white women - mean of 11 (N = 5) vs. mean of 10.7 (10), but non-white men scored lower than white men - mean of 7 (N = 1) vs. mean of 11.5 (n = 2). Given the very low numbers of male students in this analysis we have rated the criterion as being met. Moreover there was no overall statistical relationship between race and CECE scores at the main effect level. (09/15/2022) Notes:

(09/14/2022) Notes: Result Trend: Monitoring Result Type: Criterion Met SC students who took the Counselor Education Comprehensive Exam, a standardized exam used by multiple counseling graduate programs across the country. In total 6 students took the CECE during the 2021-2022 academic year. On the career development domain SC students obtained an average score of 11.83. This was significant above the overall USA counseling program mean of 10.61, and above the national mean of 10.12. Scores below 7.57 were below 1 standard deviation unit from the national mean. Thus, the SC average score is well within the average range. No students earned an individual appraisal domain score below the -1SD range. 6/6 students obtained scores within the -1SD range. Three students (2 Caucasians & 1 from a diverse background) scored more than 1SD (7.35) from the national mean. The student's scores were 6, 5, and 5. Although, each of these students scored more than 1SD below the mean, all students passed their comprehensive exams. (09/11/2022) Notes:	Use of Results: The Counselor Education Program has initiated a Comprehensive Exam Study Site on CANVAS but the site is not well organized or user friendly. A graduate assistant will organize the site and beginning Spring 2023 this site will be organized in such a way that students can review previous course material, previous quizzes, and course study guides to assist them in preparing to take their comprehensive exams. We hope that providing an organized study site will help students review for their comprehensive exam and improve their scores. (09/14/2022)
